MESSAGE

I am glad to know that through the auspices of National Productivity Council, 12th February 2017 is being observed as the Productivity Day throughout the country along with a week long Productivity Week with the theme "From waste to profits through Reduce, Recycle and Reuse".

There is no substitute for productive labour. It is the process by which dreams become reality. It is the process by which idle vision become vibrant achievement. The National Productivity Council has contributed immensely in inculcating awareness in enhancing productivity in all sectors of economy with professional skills, excellence and thereby providing for a secure, agile, dynamic and conducive economic environment, where competitiveness is of significant importance. The Council has also accomplished an enormous task of addressing issues and concerns affecting various sectors and providing strategic solutions.

On this occasion, I am also happy to know that The National Productivity Council has selected an appropriate theme this year that will help promote measures in sustainable consumption and development.

Please accept my congratulations and best wishes on the occasion.
