Leadership – How & Why it Transcends Mgmt.?

This session is aimed at identifying the essence of efforts needed to become more than just managers. The focus would be to introduce the participant to,

- the distinctive contextual purposes of management and leadership,
- the areas of confluence and the areas of divergence in the roles of managers and leaders and
- the underlying principles and methods that can help one make the cross-over from being just a manager to becoming a leader

Excellence in Leadership - What does it mean?

This session is aimed at introducing the significance of excellence in leadership roles and the accompanying challenges, when organisations are looking at the leadership pipeline.

The focus would be to introduce the participant to the skills, their applications and the values that need to be mastered as one progresses across six critical pathways that leaders need to navigate.

Leadership and Strategy

This session is aimed at facilitating and understanding of the fundamental nature and issues in formulating and implementing strategies as well as the pathways that leaders can adopt to be successful. The focus would be to introduce the participant to

- making sense of the growing complexities of today's world,
- the insights of the nature of strategy and its implementation and
- the right pathways of exercising power, purpose and principles in effectively influencing the strategic outcomes.

Qualities for Transformational Leadership

This session is aimed at introducing the five core principles that define transformational leadership. The focus would be to introduce to, and discuss with the participant

- the underlying philosophical essence of a leadership ladder,
- the 5E principles that govern the impacts of a transformational leaders' journey and
- the key qualities that can help one in becoming a transformational leader.

Leading in a VUCA world

This session is aimed at making leaders and leadership aspirants to have a rethink at their "business-as-usual" approaches so that they can understand the value-at-risk from the trends arising out of the VUCA environment. The focus would be to

- understand concepts such as loss of relevance,
- how as systems collapse, alternatives (including rogue systems) will attempt to fill the gaps, and
- show how leaders can address these challenges and influence their teams to successful outcomes through re-calibrated approaches to pragmatism, reliability, consensus-management, teamwork and risk management.

360° Leadership

This session is aimed at facilitating a leadership journey to those who aspire to become good leaders. The focus would be to introduce the participant to

- understand what Leadership is all about, and Why Leadership Matters,
- realize the Myths and Challenges to Leadership,
- become aware of the principles of 360° Leadership and how it can add value.
